

GARDENING RESOURCES

Chatham County has a dedicated horticulture extension agent (part of NC State University). Matt Jones is an invaluable resource for your gardening questions: matt_jones@ncsu.edu

The NC Botanical Garden, a unit of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, is a conservation garden, a great place to walk, and an excellent source of information, lectures, classes, and plant sales. You can go to their website to explore the offerings and sign up to receive their newsletter.
